5b. As you may know, Vermont Senator Jim Jeffords left the Republican Party to become an independent, which means that the Democrats now control the Senate, while the Republicans continue to control the House of Representatives and the White House. Overall, do you think that this will make things better because there will be more checks and balances, will make things worse because it will be harder to get legislation passed, or will not make much difference either way? *

15. Currently there are two plans before Congress to help seniors pay for prescription drugs.

Plan A would provide prescription drug coverage for all seniors through the Medicare program, but the cost for this program would be higher than the current federal budget for Medicare allows.

Plan B would allow seniors the option of privately purchasing a supplemental Medicare policy that would cover prescription drug costs, and this plan would fit within the current federal budget for Medicare.

Which plan do you favor more--Plan A or Plan B?

| Not sure..... | 8 | |

16b. Which concerns you more as Congress considers a patients' bill of rights--that a new law will go too far, which would make HMO membership and insurance coverage more expensive, or that a new law will not go far enough, which would leave HMOs able to deny needed coverage?

| | | |
|-----------------------------|----|-------|

| Depends (VOL)..... | 5 | |

16c. Those who favor giving patients a broad right to sue as part of a patients' bill of rights say that it will force HMOs to be more accountable in covering needed procedures, and that lawsuits will be rare. Opponents say that a broad right to sue will lead to many frivolous lawsuits that will drive up the costs of health insurance so much that some people will lose insurance coverage. Who do you agree with more--the supporters of a broad right to sue or the opponents?

These human embryo stem cells are then used to generate new cells and tissue that could help treat or cure many diseases. I am now going to read you two statements about this type of research.

Statement A: Those OPPOSED to this type of research say that it crosses an ethical line by using cells from potentially viable human embryos, when this research can be done on animals or by using other types of cells.

Statement B: Those IN FAVOR of this research say that it could lead to breakthrough cures for many diseases, such as cancer, Alzheimer's, Parkinson's, and spinal cord injuries, and this research uses only embryos that otherwise would be discarded.
